SECTION A: POETRY

PRESCRIBED POETRY

Answer any TWO of the following questions.

QUESTION 1: POETRY – ESSAY QUESTION

Read the poem below and then answer the question that follows.

THE GARDEN OF LOVE – William Blake

1 I went to the Garden of Love,
2 And saw what I never had seen:
3 A Chapel was built in the midst,
4 Where I used to play on the green.

5 And the gates of this Chapel were shut,
6 And Thou shalt not writ over the door;
7 So I turn'd to the Garden of Love,
8 That so many sweet flowers bore,

9 And I saw it was filled with graves,
10 And tomb-stones where flowers should be:
11 And Priests in black gowns were walking their rounds,
12 And binding with briars my joys & desires.

In 'The Garden of Love', the speaker is critical of the role the Church plays in the lives of people.

With close reference to diction, imagery and tone, critically discuss the validity of this statement.

Your response should take the form of a well-constructed essay of 250–300 words (about ONE page).

QUESTION 2: POETRY – CONTEXTUAL QUESTION

Read the poem below and then answer the questions that follow.

A HARD FROST – Cecil Day Lewis

1 A frost came in the night and stole my world
2 And left this changeling for it – a precocious
3 Image of spring, too brilliant to be true:
4 White lilac on the windowpane, each grass-blade
5 Furred like a catkin, maydrift loading the hedge.
6 The elms behind the house are elms no longer
7 But blossomers in crystal, stems of the mist
8 That hangs yet in the valley below, amorphous
9 As the blind tissue whence creation formed.

10 The sun looks out, and the fields blaze with diamonds.
11 Mockery spring, to lend this bridal gear
12 For a few hours to a raw country maid,
13 Then leave her all disconsolate with old fairings
14 Of aconite and snowdrop! No, not here
15 Amid this flounce and filigree of death
16 Is the real transformation scene in progress
17 But deep below where frost
18 Worrying the stiff clods unclenches their
19 Grip on the seed and lets our future breathe.

QUESTION 3: POETRY – CONTEXTUAL QUESTION

Read the poem below and then answer the questions that follow.

VULTURES – Chinua Achebe

1 In the greyness
2 and drizzle of one despondent
3 dawn unstirred by harbingers
4 of sunbreak a vulture
5 perching high on broken
6 bone of a dead tree
7 nestled close to his
8 mate his smooth
9 bashed-in head, a pebble
10 on a stem rooted in
11 a dump of gross
12 feathers, inclined affectionately
13 to hers. Yesterday they picked
14 the eyes of a swollen
15 corpse in a water-logged
16 trench and ate the
17 things in its bowel. Full
18 gorged they chose their roost
19 keeping the hollowed remnant
20 in easy range of cold
21 telescopic eyes ...
22 Strange
23 indeed how love in other
24 ways so particular
25 will pick a corner
26 in that charnel-house
27 tidy it and coil up there, perhaps
28 even fall asleep – her face
29 turned to the wall!
30 ... Thus the Commandant at Belsen
31 Camp going home for 32 the day with fumes of
33 human roast clinging
34 rebelliously to his hairy
35 nostrils will stop
36 at the wayside sweet-shop
37 and pick up a chocolate
38 for his tender offspring
39 waiting at home for Daddy's
40 return ...
41 Praise bounteous
42 providence if you will
43 that grants even an ogre
44 a tiny glow-worm
45 tenderness encapsulated

46	in icy caverns of a cruel
47	heart or else despair
48	for in the very germ
49	of that kindred love is
50	lodged the perpetuity
51	of evil.

AN AFRICAN THUNDERSTORM – David Rubadiri

1 From the west
2 Clouds come hurrying with the wind
3 Turning
4 Sharply
5 Here and there
6 Like a plague of locusts
7 Whirling
8 Tossing up things on its tail
9 Like a madman chasing nothing.

10 Pregnant clouds
11 Ride stately on its back
12 Gathering to perch on hills
13 Like dark sinister wings;
14 The Wind whistles by
15 And trees bend to let it pass.

16 In the village
17 Screams of delighted children
18 Toss and turn
19 In the din of whirling wind,
20 Women –
21 Babies clinging on their backs –
22 Dart about
23 In and out
24 Madly
25 The Wind whistles by
26 Whilst trees bend to let it pass.
27 Clothes wave like tattered flags

QUESTION 5: UNSEEN POEM – CONTEXTUAL QUESTION

Read the poem below and then answer the questions that follow.

NIGHTFALL – BW Vilakazi

1 I watch the darkness falling
2 And hills withdraw their shadows:
3 The sun, like ochre, reddens.

4 The swallows are at rest,
5 The sea-wind still and silent;
6 Above me fly the bats.

7 Now, as the streets are lit,
8 I fear the lurking thieves
9 Who seek their prey like hunters.

10 Here, there is no grass,
11 But dust from off the mine-dumps
12 Like smoke is drifting skyward.

13 Here there is no river
14 To shelter lurking frogs
15 And harbour water-fowl.

16 Here are only people
17 Jostling home from labour,
18 Herded by dusk, together.

QUESTION 7: THE PICTURE OF DORIAN GRAY – CONTEXTUAL QUESTION

Read the extracts below and then answer the questions that follow.

EXTRACT A

'Yes, Dorian, you will always be fond of me. I represent to you all the sins you have never had the courage to commit.'

'What nonsense you talk, Harry!' cried the lad, taking a light from a fire-breathing silver dragon that the waiter had placed on the table. 'Let us go down to the theatre. When Sibyl comes on the stage you will have a new ideal of life. She will represent something to you that you have never known.'

5

'I have known everything,' said Lord Henry, with a tired look in his eyes, 'but I am always ready for a new emotion. I am afraid, however, that, for me at any rate, there is no such thing. Still, your wonderful girl may thrill me. I love acting. It is so much more real than life. Let us go. Dorian, you will come with me. I am so sorry, Basil, but there is only room for two in the brougham. You must follow us in a hansom.'

10

They got up and put on their coats, sipping their coffee standing. The painter was silent and preoccupied. There was a gloom over him. He could not bear this marriage, and yet it seemed to him to be better than many other things that might have happened. After a few minutes they all passed downstairs. He drove off by himself, as had been arranged, and watched the flashing lights of the little brougham in front of him. A strange sense of loss came over him. He felt that Dorian Gray would never again be to him all that he had been in the past. Life had come between them ... His eyes darkened, and the crowded, flaring streets became blurred to his eyes. When the cab drew up at the theatre, it seemed to him that he had grown years older.

EXTRACT B

At last the door opened, and his servant entered. He turned glazed eyes upon him.

'Mr Campbell, sir,' said the man.

A sigh of relief broke from his parched lips, and the colour came back to his cheeks.

'Ask him to come in at once, Francis.' He felt that he was himself again. His mood of cowardice had passed away. 5

The man bowed, and retired. In a few moments Alan Campbell walked in, looking very stern and rather pale, his pallor being intensified by his coal-black hair and dark eyebrows.

'Alan! this is kind of you. I thank you for coming.'

'I had intended never to enter your house again, Gray. But you said it was a matter of life and death.' His voice was hard and cold. He spoke with slow deliberation. There was a look of contempt in the steady searching gaze that he turned on Dorian. He kept his hands in the pockets of his Astrakhan coat, and seemed not to have noticed the gesture with which he had been greeted. 10

'Yes: it is a matter of life and death, Alan, and to more than one person. Sit down.' 15

Campbell took a chair by the table, and Dorian sat opposite to him. The two men's eyes met. In Dorian's there was infinite pity. He knew that what he was going to do was dreadful.

LIFE OF PI – Yann Martel

[25]QUESTION 9: LIFE OF PI – CONTEXTUAL QUESTION

EXTRACT C

I looked at him, full of fearful wonder. There being no immediate threat, my breath slowed down, my heart stopped knocking about in my chest, and I began to regain my senses.

I had to tame him. It was at that moment that I realised this necessity. It was not a question of him or me, but of him and me. We were, literally and figuratively, in the same boat. We would live – or we would die – together. He might be killed in an accident, or he could die shortly of natural causes, but it would be foolish to count on such an eventuality. More likely the worst would happen: the simple passage of time, in which his animal toughness would easily outlast my human frailty. Only if I tamed him could I possibly trick him into dying first, if we had to come to that sorry business.

But there's more to it. I will come clean. I will tell you a secret: a part of me was glad about Richard Parker. A part of me did not want Richard Parker to die at all, because if he died I would be left alone with despair, a foe even more formidable than a tiger. If I still had the will to live, it was thanks to Richard Parker. He kept me from thinking too much about my family and my tragic circumstances. He pushed me to go on living. I hated him for it, yet at the same time I was grateful. I am grateful. It's the plain truth: without Richard Parker, I wouldn't be alive today to tell you my story.

15

[Chapter 57]

Explain how Pi gained the knowledge that enabled him to tame Richard Parker.

(3)

9.2 Refer to line 1: 'I looked at him, full of fearful wonder.'

- 9.3 Refer to lines 8–10: 'More likely the ... that sorry business.'
 Comment on how these lines influence your response to Pi's current state of mind. (3)
- 9.4 Pi states that 'despair (is) a foe even more formidable than a tiger' (line 13).
 Discuss the reasons for Pi's statement. (3)

EXTRACT D

By the time morning came, my grim decision was taken. I preferred to set off and perish in search of my own kind than to live a lonely half-life of physical comfort and spiritual death on this murderous island. I filled my stores with fresh water and I drank like a camel. I ate algae throughout the day until my stomach could take no more. I killed and skinned as many meerkats as would fit in the locker and on the floor of the lifeboat. I reaped dead fish from the ponds. With the hatchet I hacked off a large mass of algae and worked a rope through it, which I tied to the boat.	5
I could not abandon Richard Parker. To leave him would mean to kill him. He would not survive the first night. Alone in my lifeboat at sunset I would know that he was burning alive. Or that he had thrown himself in the sea, where he would drown. I waited for his return. I knew he would not be late.	10
When he was aboard, I pushed us off. For a few hours the currents kept us near the island. The noises of the sea bothered me. And I was no longer used to the rocking motions of the boat. The night went by slowly.
In the morning the island was gone, as was the mass of algae we had been towing. As soon as night had fallen, the algae had dissolved the rope with its acid.	15
The sea was heavy, the sky grey.

[Chapter 92]

- 9.5 Refer to line 1: 'By the time morning came, my grim decision was taken.'
 Explain what prompted Pi to make his decision. (3)
- 9.6 Refer to lines 13–14: 'The noises of ... of the boat.'

OPHELIA

My lord, as I was sewing in my closet,
Lord Hamlet, with his doublet all unbraced,
No hat upon his head, his stockings fouled,
Ungart'ed, and down-gyvéd to his ankle,
Pale as his shirt, his knees knocking each other,
And with a look so piteous in purport
As if he had been looséd out of hell
To speak of horrors, he comes before me.

5

POLONIUS

Mad for thy love?

OPHELIA

My lord, I do not know,

10

But truly I do fear it.

POLONIUS

What said he?

OPHELIA

He took me by the wrist, and held me hard,
Then goes he to the length of all his arm,
And with his other hand thus o'er his brow,
He falls to such perusal of my face
As he would draw it. Long stayed he so.
At last, a little shaking of mine arm,
And thrice his head thus waving up and down,
He raised a sigh so piteous and profound
As it did seem to shatter all his bulk,

15

20

And end his being. That done, he lets me go, And with his head over his shoulder turned He seemed to find his way without his eyes, For out adooors he went without their helps, And to the last bended their light on me.	25
POLONIUS
Come, go with me. I will go seek the king. This is the very ecstasy of love, Whose violent property fordoes itself, And leads the will to desperate undertakings, As oft as any passion under heaven That does afflict our natures. I am sorry ... What, have you given him any hard words of late?	30
OPHELIA
No, my good lord, but as you did command I did repel his letters, and denied His access to me.	35

If my offence be of such mortal kind That neither service past, nor present sorrows, Nor purposed merit in futurity, Can ransom me into his love again, But to know so must be my benefit. So shall I clothe me in a forced content, And shut myself up in some other course To fortune's alms.	15 20 25
DESDEMONA	Alas, thrice-gentle Cassio, My advocacy is not now in tune. My lord is not my lord, nor should I know him, Were he in favour as in humour altered. So help me every spirit sanctified As I have spoken for you all my best And stood within the blank of his displeasure For my free speech! You must awhile be patient. What I can do, I will; and more I will Than for myself I dare. Let that suffice you.	30 35

MARY	You must see it, sir, it's God's work we do. So I'll be gone every day for some time. I'm – I am an official of the court, they say, and I – (She has been edging toward offstage.)
PROCTOR	I'll official you! (He strides to the mantel, takes down the whip hanging there.)	5
MARY	(terrified, but coming erect, striving for her authority): I'll not stand whipping any more!
ELIZABETH	(hurriedly, as Proctor approaches): Mary, promise now you'll stay at home –
MARY	(backing from him, but keeping her erect posture, striving, striving for her way): The Devil's loose in Salem, Mr Proctor; we must discover where he's hiding!	10
PROCTOR	I'll whip the Devil out of you! (With whip raised he reaches out for her, and she streaks away and yells.)
MARY	(pointing at Elizabeth): I saved her life today! (Silence. His whip comes down.)	15
ELIZABETH	(softly): I am accused?
MARY	(quaking): Somewhat mentioned. But I said I never see no sign you ever sent your spirit out to hurt no one, and seeing I do live so closely with you, they dismissed it.	20
ELIZABETH	Who accused me?
MARY	I am bound by law, I cannot tell it. (To Proctor): I only hope you'll not be so sarcastical no more. Four judges and the King's deputy sat to dinner with us but an hour ago. I – I would have you speak civilly to me, from this out.	25

DANFORTH	(after thinking a moment): His wife – his wife must be well on with child now.
HERRICK	She is, sir.
DANFORTH	What think you, Mr Parris? You have closer knowledge of this man; might her presence soften him?
PARRIS	It is possible, sir. He have not laid eyes on her these three months. I should summon her.	5
DANFORTH	(to Herrick): Is he yet adamant? Has he struck at you again?
HERRICK	He cannot, sir, he is chained to the wall now.
DANFORTH	(after thinking on it): Fetch Goody Proctor to me. Then let you bring him up.	10
HERRICK	Aye, sir. (HERRICK goes. There is silence.)
HALE	Excellency, if you postpone a week and publish to the town that you are striving for their confessions, that speak mercy on your part, not faltering.	15
DANFORTH	Mr Hale, as God have not empowered me like Joshua to stop this sun from rising, so I cannot withhold from them the perfection of their punishment.
HALE	(harder now): If you think God wills you to raise rebellion, Mr Danforth, you are mistaken!	20
DANFORTH	(instantly): You have heard rebellion spoken in the town?
HALE	Excellency, there are orphans wandering from house to house; abandoned cattle bellow on the highroads, the stink of rotting crops hangs everywhere, and no man knows when the harlots' cry will end his life – and you should wonder yet if rebellion's spoke? Better you should marvel how they do not burn your province!	25

DANFORTH	You baffle me, sir. Why have you returned here?
